THE NEW SUEZ CANAL.

LONDON, July 12.—At a meeting of mer-chants and ship owners held to-day to discuss the agreement between M. de Lesseps and the British government in relation to the project for a second Suez canal resolutions were passed expressing regret that the government had promised to use their influence to obtain a concession for a second canal in favor of M. de Lesseps' company, instead of securing a concession for an independent Reitish canal

The London chamber of commerce has unanimously decided that the agreement beunanimously decided that the agreement between the British government and M, de Lesseps for the construction of another Suez canal is inadequate and unsatisfactory. Meetings of ship owners at Sunderland and West Hartlepool have voted that the agreement is detrimental to British commercial interests. Numerons other similar bodies throughout the country have passed resolutions of the same character independently of polities.

THE MADAGASCAR MATTER.

LONDON, July 12.—The report of the deings of the French in Madagascar alluded to by Mr. Gladstone in the house of commons yesterday came from the British consul at Zanzibar. It was brought to that place by a man-of-war. The French government has telegraphed to Madagascar for details of the proceedings complained of. During the session of the house of loyels this afternoon. sion of the house of lords this afternoon Lord Salisbury questioned Lord Granville, foreign secretary, as to whether the British forces in Madagascar waters would be increased.

Lord Granville said that he could not make a public statement which might be miscon-strued—the more so, as he had reason to be-lieve, that the French government were will-ing to do what was right in the matter.

The French government have informed England that they await official advices from Tamataya before reallying to Lord Granville's he has had an interview with Prime Minister Ferry, in the course of which M. Ferry de-clared that the excitement in England over the Tamatave affair must have arisen from a misconception of the feelings of the French cabinet, whose most sincere wish was to cultivate cordial relations with England.

M. Ferry believed that the occurrence at Tamatave had been exaggerated. The deat Ismatave had been exaggerated. The de-ceased British consul, he said, was known to be anti-French in his attitude. The idea that any French admiral would insult the British flag M. Ferry declared to be prepos-terous, and he asserted that Admiral Pierre could not have ventured to adopt the extra-ordinary course attributed to him.

THE HOG IN GERMANY. The North German Gazette of Berlin quotes a letter from Mr. Sargent, the American minister, in which he states that Germany's pre-tense that the interdiction of the importation of American pork was owing to sanitary rea-Gazette, in reply to the assertion of Mr. Sargent, reproduces an article from a Cincinnati paper, which it is declared that half of the lard manufactured in America consists of cotton seed oil, tallow, clay and water.

The Times correspondent at Berlin says it. is believed that the German government have now found a long sought pretext for favoring native lard by prohibiting imports from America. The justification by the North German Gazette of the interdiction of the importation of American pork by alleging that American lard is impure is a characteristic example of the reasoning of that paper.

LORD DUFFERIN BANQUETED. Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador Turkey, was entertained at a banquet at the Empire club last night. Among the gentle-men present were Mr. Lowell, the American minister, and Hon. Alexander Mackenzie and Sir Charles Tupper, of Canada. In reply to a toast to his health, Lord Dufferin said he believed that before the close of the next cen-tury the population of Canada would be forty millions. He also believed that the English people were becoming more aware of the feel-ing of attachment toward the mother country existing in the colonies, and would never permit the government to repeat the errors by which they had lost America.

THE BRADLAUGH BOTHER.

The speaker of the house of commons has written to Mr. Bradlaugh informing him that he will be excluded from the house until he engages not to attempt to take the oath in disregard of the resolution of the house. Mr. Bradlaugh has made a reply declaring that the action of the house in his case was illegal. He says that he will endeavor to take his seat in obedience to the law, and if he is expalled he will appeal to the electors

A Suit for Blood Money. NEW YORK, July 12.-The trial of the case of Edward Banks against C. T. V. Okenberg to recover $250 blood money was begun to-day in a civil district court. The plaintiff is day in a civil district court. The plaintiff is a young colored man, who was a porter in the St. Andre hotel, in West Eleventh street, where Okenberg was found on the morning of Feb. 17 last unconscious in bed from the effect of gas poisoning. The physicians who attended decided that nothing would save his life but a transfusion of blood, and Banks submitted to the operation. Eight ounces of blood were taken from Banks, and Okenberg soon recovered. The and Okenberg soon recovered. The plaintiff claims that he was promised 10 cents per drop for his blood. Okenberg testified that Banks had agreed to accept $5, which he had given as payment in full, and it was so stated in a receipt which Banks had given by the banks had given him. His testimony was corroborated by Mr. Reed, a fellow clerk in the Western Union company's employ, who signed the re-ceipt as a witness and heard it read to Banks, ceipt as a witness and heard it read to Banks, who said he was perfectly satisfied. The witnesses examined besides the plaintiff on his own behalf were Drs. Valentine and Garriques, the latter of whom performed the operation. They had made no agreement, they said, to pay Banks for his services, and knew nothing of the contract alleged to have been made. The court reserved its decision.

The Rathway Interests. CHICAGO, July 12 .- The Railway Age pubishes statistics of railway building for the first half of the current year. These show a construction of 2,500 miles of main track, not construction of 2,509 miles of main track, not including switches or sidings, on 114 lines, in thirty-five states and territories. During the corresponding period last year 4,990 miles were constructed. This difference is accounted for on the ground that last year was extraordinarily favorable for the early commencement of the work, while the reverse is the case this year. In 1881, when 9,300 miles were laid, only 2,300 miles were laid in the first half of the year. The Age estimates the construction for entire year at 8,000 miles. California leads thus far with 8,000 miles. California leads thus far with 8,000 miles. ROLLINS RETIRES.

After Twenty-One Ballots He Gives Up the Contest For the Senatorship, Having Invited His Four Principal Competitors to Join the Procession.

The Twenty-Second Ballot Shows a Scattering of Forces-Patterson Out of the Race.

Secretary Chandler Coming Rapidly to the Front in the Contest.

CONCORD, N. H., July 12 .- At a meeting of ex-Senator Rollins's friends last evening the situation was thoroughly canvassed, and a plan of action arranged which has been carried out to-day, and Mr. Rollins is no longer a candidate before the legislature. The follow-candidate before the legislature. The following letter was prepared, and a copy sont to Messrs. Marston, Patterson, Briggs, and Stevens, with a reque at that they reply before 9 o'clock this morning:

Coxcord, N. H., July 11.—Sir. At a republican caucus of the members of the legislature, held on the evening of June 14, 1883, I was nominated for the office of United States senator. By virtue of that nomination, I believe that I was entitled to the support of every republican member of the senate and house of representatives. Twenty-two ballots have been taken with no choice. This fact makes it evident that a portion of the members persist in refusing to support the regular nominee. The harmony of the republican party is very seriously impaired, and there seems to be danger of permanent division, if not absolute disruption, of the organization. The republican party has honored no with its confidence for a series of years, and I have supported it faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability. In the same spirit of devotion to the party I am willing to do anything In my power to remove their difficulties without regard to any personal consideration. I therefore propose to you, gentuemen, each of whom has received a considerable support from the members regard to any personal consideration. I therefore propose to you, gentemen, each of whom has received a considerable support from the members who have refused to abide by the result of the caucus, that each of us should withdraw from the contest and leave the field open to the further consideration of the party. Upon receiving your assent to this proposal, I will at one publicly and positively withdraw my acceptance of the nomination of the caucus.

Neither of the four goutlemen would answer the letter and none of them with-answer the letter, and none of them with-drew. This action did not change Mr. Rol-line's determination, and later his letter withdrawing from the race was read to the legisdrawing from the race was read to the legislature.

The following is the result of the first ballot to-day: Whole number of votes, 322; necessary to a choice, 162. Wm. S. Ladd, 1; Daniel Bernard, 1; John G. Mugridge, 1, Charles H. Burns, 1; Jeremiah Smith, 3; Wm. E. Chandler, 8; Aaron F. Stevens, 18; Gilman Marston, 20; Mason W. Tappan, 22; James F. Briggs, 37; Edward H. Rollins 93; Harry Bingham, 117. Patterson dropped out of the contest, his strength going to Messrs, Chandler, Tappan, Briggs, and Marston. At the conclusion of the ballot Mr. Whitehouse, of Rochester, arose and presented the following;

ing;

To the Republican Members of the New Hamshire Legislature: As your candidate for United States senator, regularly nominated in accordance with the time honored usages of the party. Thave for a versal weeks and at hearly every vote taken been supported by a majority of you wish entire fidelity. From the beginning of the cauvass, however, my election has been opposed by several gentlemen of prominence in the party who have received honors at its hands, and always by the agency of caucuases and convocutions, and they have succeeded thus far in thwarting the, election of a senator in a legislature containing ninety republican rangority. Convinced at length that the interests of the republican party require a speedy termination of this condition of things, I have proposed to four gentlemen who have from the outset repudlated gheir party obligations and stood as sandidates for the senate in defiance of the will of the organization, that we all retire from the fields and leave it open to the further consideration of the party. This proposal has not been accepted, and I leave those gentlemen to settle their account in this entire transaction with their constituents and the republican party of New Hampshire. In my view of public affairs I am their account in this entire transaction with their constituents and the republican party of New Hampshire. In my view of public affairs I am thus brought to face an important personal responsibility. In an active membership of the republican party ever since its birth, in seasons of victory and of defeat, sometimes in the position of a leader and sometimes as a private in its ranks, I have never faltered in supporting its principles, its nominations, and its accredited modes of action; nor have I hesitated to make any sacrifice of my personal feelings or ambitions which the expressed will of my party associates seemed to demand. It costs me no heart burnings to trend the path of dury again, and, therefore, in the further interest of harmony and peace of the party in whose continued ascendency in the state and nation I believe the best interests of our time are bound up, and for which I am as solicitous to-day as ever before, and especially in view of the approaching presidential election, the closeness of the United States senate and the absolute importance of choosing a republican senator at this session, I desire to withdraw my name as your nominee for senator, and leave you free to select another.

Profoundly, gratefully, &c. E. H. Rollins.

Into senatorial contest seems as far from so-lution to-night as ever. Much difference of opinion exists as to the final result. It is claimed that Secretary Chandler has received assurances from a sufficient number to warrant the assertion made by his friends that his vote to-morrow will reach upward of 70. His op-ponents say he will probably obtain the support of some who gave scattering votes to-day, and that his total may amount to 60, His candidacy, they also declare, will engender sufficient opposition to prevent election. Most of his strength to day gained from Rollins, and some Rollins men to-night state they will change to-morrow. It is understood that Briggs and Stevens held a private conference to-night, it is supposed, to arrange for the transfer of the latter's support to the former to-morrow. Possibly two ballots will be taken to-morrow, after which an adjournment will occur to Tuesday. No one be-lieves that an election will take place before next week.
